
Holy Trinity Church of England Primary School - Establishment of provision for children with behavioural, emotional and social development needs

Notice is given in accordance with section 19(1) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 that London Borough of Richmond upon Thames intends to make a prescribed alteration to Holy Trinity Church of England Primary School (Voluntary Aided), Carrington Road, Richmond upon Thames, TW10 5AA from 1 September 2010.

It is proposed to establish an enhanced specialist teaching provision for three children with statements of special educational needs who have behavioural, emotional and social development needs. Enhanced specialist teaching provision would be a specially designed resource area in the school with additional specialist staff. The children would spend most of their time in mainstream classes with additional support, but there would be the opportunity for withdrawal to the resource area for intensive work.

It is intended that the school will make provision for the following type(s) of special educational needs provision that would be recognised by the local education authority as reserved for SEN pupils: Behaviour, Emotional and Social Difficulty.

Explanatory notes

The proposal is part of a wide ranging review of the Authority's SEN provision. Currently the Authority's only specialist provision for primary age children with statements for behavioural difficulties is at the Oldfield House Unit which is part of Clarendon Special School. Oldfield House has 10 places. It is proposed to develop more inclusive and diverse provision in the Authority and increase places in the primary phase by reducing the number of places at Oldfield House to four whilst establishing three enhanced specialist provisions at primary schools geographically spread across the Borough: Hampton Hill Junior School and Holy Trinity and East Sheen Primary Schools. The school would not normally be expected to admit more than one child to the provision in any one year group.
