Latest Pharmaceutical Needs Assessment (PNA) published August 2023.

The Health and Wellbeing Board regularly reviews the provision of pharmaceutical services in its area. A change since the publication of the current pharmaceutical needs assessment has been identified which may be deemed relevant to the granting of market entry applications.

The Health and Wellbeing Board is not currently producing its next pharmaceutical needs assessment and considers producing a new pharmaceutical needs assessment, a disproportionate response to the changes.

The Richmond Health and Wellbeing Board was notified of changes to the following pharmaceutical services currently contained within the PNA published August 2023. This updated information supersedes some of the original information and should be read in conjunction with that document.

The health and wellbeing board considers that the closure of these two pharmacies would create a gap in the provision of pharmaceutical services in that local area.
