

Talking Tip 27

Welcoming and settling new children

Make sure that you are prepared by providing a visual timetable.

This will help all children understand the routine more quickly and give them the vocabulary they need to participate in the activities as they settle into their new environment.

See attached information on how to create and use a visual timetable.

2011 is the National Year of Communication for more information visit www.hello.org.uk

August 2011: Partnership with Parents
Adults are the best resource – adult:child interaction supports speech, language and communication development

